“ Im not sure where to start, I know that I was your biggest challenge....I give you credit you never gave up and you was right (most) of the time...you thought me lots of creative ways to deal with stupidity. Love and miss you..I can still smell your cigars at random times, so I know you're near. Good looking out Dad..

“ I don't have any idea where or how to begin to tell of the lifetime of memories we shared. I'll come back here and share a memory from time to time as I unpack them and find a place for them. My Brother. My protector. My hero. Life will never be the same. Love you brother.
